

Authors

Urban Ahlin is a Swedish Social Democratic Party politician since 1994 and Speaker of the Parliament of Sweden after 2014 Parliamentary elections. For the past twenty years, Urban has worked in the field of foreign policy in various capacities, such as Foreign Policy Spokesperson, and Chair of the Committee on Foreign Affairs. He is a founding member of the European Council on Foreign Relations ECFR, and member of the Trilateral Commission. In 2007, Urban Ahlin received the Cross of Commander from the President of Lithuania.

Urban Ahlin

Anne Sofie Allarp is an Author, Writer and Radio Presenter. She holds a Master's degree in International Law from the University of Copenhagen, and has among other been posted by the European Commission in Africa and South Asia. She published her first novel, a political thriller that was nominated for best literary newcomer award the same year. Her second novel, the critically acclaimed horror story The Occurrence, is available in English. In 2014 her non-fiction book The Scandinavian Dream was published. She is a frequent op-ed writer in the Danish press and now works as foreign affairs editor and presenter at a Danish public service talk radio station.

Anne-Sofie Allarp

Ragna Árnadóttir was the Minister of Justice from February 2009 to September 2010. Her previous positions include serving as the Director of Legal Affairs in the Ministry of Justice in Iceland and Senior Adviser in the Nordic Council's Secretariat in Stockholm and Copenhagen. She is currently the Deputy CEO of Landsvirkjun, Renewable Energy Company, and the Vice Chairman of the Red Cross in Iceland. Ragna completed her Candidata Juris law degree from the University of Iceland and holds a Master's degree in European Affairs, LL.M, from the University of Lund in Sweden.

Ragna Árnadóttir

Ragnar Árnason

Ragnar Árnason is a Professor of Economics at the University of Iceland and member of the board of the Central Bank of Iceland. He has a publication record of over 170 scientific articles and several books. He has written extensively on issues of social welfare, income distribution and social policy in Iceland.

Gertrud Åström

Gertrud Åström is an expert on gender equality and runs her own business HelaHUT AB. She is the former Executive Director at Ordfront, a member of Academy for Gender Equality at Swedish Farmers Association and the Swedish UN Association, as well as former President of the Swedish Women's Lobby 2009–2015. She is a noted author and expert on the gender pay gap. She formally headed the Swedish Government Committees on Leisure and Sport, and Gender Equality Policy.

Nicklas Bergman

Nicklas Bergman has worked as an entrepreneur and technology investor for more than 25 years. He is mostly focusing on investments and business development in emerging markets, web services, nanotechnology, computing, new materials, and new media art, currently through close to 15 direct and indirect technology investments. Nicklas is also Scandinavian representative of the TechCast Technology Think Tank in Washington D.C. and recently published a new book on how to deal with new technologies from a business perspective: Surviving the Techstorm - Strategy in Times of Technological Uncertainty, Lid Publishing (London, 2016).

Carl Bildt is the former Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Sweden. He served as EU Special Envoy to the Former Yugoslavia, High Representative for Bosnia and Herzegovina, UN Special Envoy to the Balkans, and Co-Chairman of the Dayton Peace Conference. He is Chair of the Global Commission on Internet Governance and a member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Europe.

Carl Bildt

Ulla Börestam is a Professor in the Department of Scandinavian languages at Uppsala University. Her main field of study is inter-comprehension between the related languages of Scandinavia. She has for example studied communicative strategies, language choices and the formation of a Scandinavian speech community abroad.

Ulla Börestam

Grete Brochmann is Professor of Sociology, Department of Sociology and Human Geography at the University of Oslo. She has published several books and articles on international migration; sending and receiving country perspectives, EU policies, welfare state dilemmas as well as historical studies on immigration. She has served as a visiting scholar in Brussels, Berkeley, and Boston. In 2002 she held the Willy Brandt Visiting Professorship in Malmö, Sweden. She is currently head of a governmental commission in Norway on long term consequences of comprehensive immigration.

Grete Brochmann

Karsten Dybvad

Karsten Dybvad is Director General and Chief Executive Officer of the Confederation of Danish Industry (DI) - Denmark's largest employers- and business organization. Before Karsten Dybvad came to DI in November 2010, he was the Permanent Secretary of State (Chief of Staff) in the Danish Prime Minister's Office for five years and before that Permanent Secretary of State in the Ministry of Finance. Karsten Dybvad is a member of the boards of the Novo Foundation, PensionDanmark, PFA Pension, PFA Holding and the Executive Board of BUSINESSEUROPE and he is Chairman of Copenhagen Business School. He holds a Master's degree in Economics from the University of Copenhagen (1985).

Vigdís Finnbogadóttir

Vigdís Finnbogadóttir became the world's first democratically elected female head of state when she was elected President of Iceland in 1980. In addition to serving as President until 1996, she has been a UNESCO Goodwill Ambassador for Languages for almost two decades, and held numerous other official positions both in Iceland and internationally. She was a founding chair of the Council of Women World Leaders and chair of COMEST, the World Commission on the Ethics of Scientific Knowledge and Technology, within UNESCO. As well as numerous orders and distinctions she has received from countries throughout the world, Vigdís was awarded 21 honorary doctorates from universities in the Americas, Asia and Europe. See www.vigdis.is for details.

Jonas Gardell

Jonas Gardell was born in 1963 and made his highly praised literary debut in 1985 with the novel Passionsspelet/The Passion Play, a novel about homosexual love. Since then he has published several books, plays and other texts. He is one of Scandinavia's most popular stand-up comedians and a highly appreciated playwright. In his books he portrays all kinds of human beings, the humor is natural and obvious as is also pain and sorrow. In Jonas Gardell's writings there are no taboos, he moves with preciseness between the big and the small, between dreams and stern reality. Jonas Gardell's books have been translated into 13 languages.

Ingólfur Gíslason was born in Reykjavík in 1956 and has lived there apart from 9 years in Sweden. He has a BA-degree in Political Science from the University of Iceland and a PhD in Sociology from the University of Lund. For many years he worked at the Centre for Gender Equality. Currently he is an Associate Professor in Sociology at the University of Iceland. He has three children and four grandchildren and considers himself a very lucky and privileged man.

Ingólfur Gíslason

Bertel Geismar Haarder has had an extensive career in Danish politics. Currently he is the Minister for Culture and Church in the Danish Parliament. He was appointed by Prime Minister Lars Lykke Rasmussen in 2015. Prior to this, he served as Minister for Nordic Cooperation from 2007 to 2010. In February of 2010, he was appointed Interior and Health Minister under Anders Fogh Rasmussen. He has published a number of coveted socio-critical publications on the state of Danish society and the political system. In 2011, Haarder celebrated his 20-year anniversary as a minister in Danish Parliament. The anniversary made him the second-longest serving minister in Parliament since the system change in 1901.

Bertel Haarder

Rögvaldur Hannesson was born and raised in Iceland. He has a PhD in economics from University of Lund, Sweden. His academic career has been in Norway; from 1983 to retirement in 2013 he was professor at the Norwegian School of Economics. His research has mainly been on the economics of fisheries and petroleum. He is the author of several books, the most recent of which are Ecofundamentalism and Debt, Democracy and the Welfare State.

Rögvaldur Hannesson

Gunnar Haraldsson

Gunnar Haraldsson is an Economist with wide ranging experience from working in academia, for the public and private sector as well as for international organizations. Among other responsibilities he is currently the Chairman of the Icelandic Fiscal Council. He is the founder of Intellecon, an economic consultancy.

Auður Hauksdóttir

Auður Hauksdóttir is a Professor of Danish and Managing Director of The Vigdís Finnbogadóttir Institute of Foreign Language at the University of Iceland since its establishment in 2001. Her field of research includes Danish as a foreign language in Iceland, Danish language and culture in Iceland past and present, and comparative studies of lexical phrases in Danish and Icelandic.

Connie Hedegaard

With two decades of experience in international and domestic executive policy making Connie Hedegaard holds several key positions in support of a low-carbon and green economy. She is the former European Commissioner for Climate Action from 2010 to 2014. Prior to her position as Commissioner, she was the Danish Minister of Climate and Energy from 2007 to 2009, and Danish Minister for Environment from 2004 to 2007. Hedegaard accepted the position as Director at Danfoss A/S in 2016. She is also Chairman of the OECD's Round Table on Sustainable Development and the Chairman of the Board of the sustainability foundation, the KR Foundation, and the green think tank CON-CITO.

Karin Helander is Vice-Chancellor and Professor of Performance Studies at the Department of Musicology and Performance Studies and former Director of the Centre for the Studies of Children's Culture at the Department of Child and Youth Studies, Stockholm University. She has been a long time member of the Board of the Swedish Arts Council. She has published numerous books and articles stemming from her areas of research – mostly on the art of acting, contemporary theatre, opera as well as youth and children's theatre.

Karin Helander

Øystein Holter was born in Oslo in 1952 and is married, and father of four children. Having worked with gender research over many years, he feels privileged, as a researcher (and as a man), to witness major social change. He participated in studies of work democracy and work life reconciliation at the Work Research Institute in Oslo in the 1980s and 90s, and in Nordic and European projects later, and became a professor at the Centre for Gender Research, University of Oslo, in 2007. Recently, he has worked in survey research, creating a model for a detailed gender equality survey that has been adapted in other countries, including Poland (2015). His books in English include Can Men Do It (2003), and Gender Equality and Quality of Life (with Helge Svare and Cathrine Egeland, 2009).

Øystein Holter

Emmi Itäranta is a Finnish author whose award-winning debut novel Memory of Water has been translated to over 20 languages. She resides in Canterbury, United Kingdom.

Emmi Itäranta

Katja Iversen

Katja Iversen is the President/CEO of Women Deliver, a leading global advocate for investment in the health, rights and wellbeing of girls and women. Iversen, an internationally recognized speaker and expert on gender equality and advocacy for girls and women, has more than 25 years of experience working in NGOs, corporates and the United Nations. She has counseled and trained multiple Fortune 500 executives on cross cultural management, and is currently an advisor to the Clinton Global Initiative, to the World Bank and to the UN Secretary General's Every Woman Every Child initiative. In May 2016 she hosted the Women Deliver conference – the world's largest conference on gender equality and the health, rights and wellbeing for more than a decade, convening almost 6000 world leaders, influencers, activists and journalists from 169 countries.

Christina Jutterström

Christina Jutterström was a political reporter from 1966–1975 and Swedish public service radio and TV personality. Permanent Africa Correspondent 1975–77, Managing Editor Swedish Radio 1977–81, Editor in Chief Dagens Nyheter and Expressen 1982–1995, CEO Swedish Public Service Television 2001–2006.

Naser Khader

Naser Khader is a member of the Danish Parliament for The Conservative Party, a columnist/contributor to several Danish and international media outlets, radio host and an acclaimed author on books about Islam, The Arab an Islamic World and Democratic Integration. Naser Khader is co-founder of The Muslim Reform Movement—an international initiative that aims to fight violent Islamist ideologies and political Islam and promote a peaceful modern Islam, human rights and secular governance. Naser Khader was a Hudson Institute Fellow in Washington, D.C. and has been awarded several prizes in recognition of his fight for freedom of speech, secularity, and integration of immigrants into Danish society.

Deeyah Khan is an award winning documentary filmmaker and is the founder of Norwegian media and arts production company Fuuse. Fuuse explores the issues of diverse societies through enabling women and minorities to share their experiences and stories.

Deeyah Khan

Mininnguaq Kleist is currently Head of the Greenland Representation to the EU in Brussels, Belgium. Kleist was born in Nuuk, Greenland in 1973, and married to Mari in 2014. He holds a Master's degree in Philosophy from the University of Århus, Denmark. Kleist has been deeply involved in the work of the joint Greenlandic-Danish Self-Government Commission and was Head of Department for the Self-Government Office and later in the Department of Foreign Affairs of Government to Greenland. Kleist was previously director in The Premier's Office of the Government of Greenland.

Mininnguaq Kleist

Hugo Lagercrantz, MD, PhD, was appointed Professor of Pediatrics at the Karolinska Institute 1989. He was director of the Neonatal Programme at the Astrid Lindgren Children's Hospital until 2004. He has been a member of the Nobel Assembly, Chairman of the Swedish Pediatric Society and European Society for Pediatric Research. He is presently Senior Professor and Editor-in-chief for Acta Paediatrica. He is also a honorary member of the American Pediatric Society.

Hugo Lagercrantz

Johanna
Lammi-Taskula

Johanna Lammi-Taskula is a Research Manager with a PhD in Sociology, mother of two and employed at the National Institute for Health and Welfare in Helsinki, Finland. Her research interests include work and family policies and gender equality. She is a long-standing member of the Subsection on Men at the Council for Gender Equality, and an expert member of the Working Group on Gender Equality Statistics at Statistics Finland. She was one of the founding members of SUMS (Finnish association of research on men and masculinities).

Jørn Lund

Jørn Lund was born 1946. He was an Assistant Professor at the University of Copenhagen from 1968 to 1980, and a Professor at the Royal Danish Academy of Educational Studies, and member of the board at the University of Copenhagen from 2005 to 2011. He has been a member of the Danish and Norwegian Academy of Language and Literature since 1979, Leader of The Danish Society of Language and Literature 2002–2011, Head of the Board of the Danish Language Council since 2012 and member of The group of Nordic Language Experts since 2005.

Claus Meyer

Claus Meyer is the co-founder of the renowned restaurant, Noma, which has been voted the best restaurant across the globe in 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2014. In addition to being a chef, Meyer is a professor, has authored 14 cookbooks, and was the host of Meyer's Kitchen from 1991 to 1998, and most recently, host of season 5 of New Scandinavian Cooking. Meyer also has a number of businesses, including the Melting Pot, which was started in 2013 to help establish food schools in South America, and chocolate and fruit supply companies. He is an affiliated Professor, Lecturer and Culinary Advisor at the Department of Food Science and Food Chemistry at the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural University.

Per Stig Møller has been a Conservative People's Party Member of the Danish National Parliament from 1984 to 2015. In 1990 he was the Minister of Environment, Foreign Minister in 2001, and the Minister of Culture and Church until 2011. Before his political campaign he was a radio talkshow host on Danmarks Radio and has taught at universities in both Copenhagen and France.

Per Stig Møller

Scandinavians Arne Nerjordet and Carlos Zachrisson are highly regarded designers, textile artists and best-selling authors. They are best known for their craft books and their original, colorful and visually striking designs. Their work is highly influenced by their Scandinavian background and their everyday life in rural Norway. They work under their artist name ARNE & CARLOS, which they established in 2002.

Arne Nerjordet and Carlos Zachrisson

Ilkka Paananen is the CEO and Co-founder of Supercell, the Helsinki-based mobile games developer behind Clash of Clans, Hay Day, Boom Beach and Clash Royale. Since its founding in 2010, Supercell's four games have amassed 100m daily players and have remained in the global top 10 years after their launch. In June 2016, Supercell became the first European technology start-up to reach a valuation of $10 billion. In addition to his role at Supercell, Ilkka helps other entrepreneurs as both an investor and as an active member of the Helsinki-based startup community where he mentors and coaches other founders. Alongside his Co-founder Mikko Kodisoja, he has established the We Foundation to fight social inequality and help marginalized children and families in Finland.

Ilkka Paananen

Mårten Palme

Mårten Palme is Professor of Economics at Stockholm University and previously at the Stockholm School of Economy. He is the son of Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme. He has done research on income inequality, earnings mobility, returns to education as well as the effect of income taxes and income security systems on labor market behavior. Publications include papers in Journal of Public Economics, Economica, Journal of Human Resources and Labour Economics.

Joanne Payton

Joanne Payton is an expert on issues of violence against women and multiculturalism. She has a PhD in criminology from Cardiff University.

Nasima Razmyar

Nasima Razmyar is a Member of Parliament and City Council of Helsinki. She is also involved in many non-governmental organizations such as MONIKA—Multicultural Women's Association and Finnish Settlement Movement that works for multicultural Finland. Razmyar was born in Afghanistan but due to regime change in 1992 her whole family had to seek refuge in Finland. Razmyar has worked for years with refugees and immigrants. In spring 2015 Razmyar was elected into Parliament as the first refugee woman.

Johan Rockström is the Director of the Stockholm Resilience Centre (SRC) and a Professor in Environmental Science with emphasis on water resources and global sustainability at Stockholm University. He is an internationally recognized scientist on global sustainability issues. He is one of the leading scientists within the science on planetary boundaries. Professor Rockström has more than 15 years of experience of research on agriculture, water resources and ecosystem services. He has served as advisor to several governments, international policy processes and business networks, and has published several books and over 100 scientific articles. He chaired the design phase for Future Earth and currently chairs the Earth League, the EAT initiative, and the CGIAR program on Water, Land and Ecosystems.

Johan Rockström

Passionate about the relationship between social science and design, Jeff Risom works at the intersection of urban design, governance, business and culture to deliver projects that are economically viable and socially equitable while efficiently using energy, land and time. Building on global best-practice experience Jeff strives toward processes that catalyze local engagement and design solutions that remove barriers to diverse and equitable urban environments. An American, with degrees in Architectural Engineering from the U.S. and City Design and Social Science from the London School of Economics, Jeff lives in Copenhagen with his wife and two children.

Jeff Risom

Elísabet Ronaldsdóttir was born on July 6, 1965 in Iceland. As a film editor she is known for, among other works, Trapped (2015), John Wick (2014), Contraband (2012) and Jar City (2006). She has won 3 Edda awards and in 2016 she was invested with the Order of the Falcon for her contribution to Icelandic and international film.

Elísabet Ronaldsdóttir

Pasi Sahlberg

Pasi Sahlberg is a Finnish educator, author and scholar who has worked as a schoolteacher and teacher-educator in Finland and researched education systems around the world. He has worked with the Finnish Government, World Bank, European Commission and Harvard University and advised governments and international organisations about education policy and change. He is author of Finnish Lessons 2.0: What can the world learn from educational change in Finland and winner of the 2013 Grawemeyer Award, the 2014 Robert Owen Award, and the 2016 Lego Prize. He is currently Professor of Practice at the University of Helsinki and at Arizona State University. Twitter: @pasi_sahlberg

Kasper Salto and Thomas Sigsgaard

Since 2001, Kasper Salto and Thomas Sigsgaard have worked side-by-side in their design studio in Copenhagen. They are known for their ability to look at projects from all ends of the creative spectrum. Sigsgaard is an educated furniture craftsman and industrial designer, and Salto is an architect. Together they use a design method, unique for considering all facets that can affect a project, before beginning to mold it into something. Their motto is: “Design is to take something and make it better.”

Pekka Sauri

Pekka Sauri is Deputy Mayor of the City of Helsinki since 2003. In his previous life, he was a psychologist. He is author of a number of books on psychology, politics and the psychology of politics, and the novel Better Than Sex (2014).

Thor Sigfusson is an entrepreneur and business network nerd. He is the founder of the Iceland Ocean Cluster and several other startups in seafood related industries. Thor received his PhD in International Business from the University of Iceland in 2012. He has written several books on subjects as different as business and salmon. His main interest (and frankly obsession) is better utilization of global seafood resources.

Thor Sigfusson

Finnish musician Signmark (Marko Vuoriheimo) was born deaf into a world where music is for the hearing. Passionate about fulfilling his dreams, in 2010 Marko made one of his impossibles possible and signed a record deal with Warner Music. Signmark continues his determination to help everyone find their own voice.

Signmark

Kristin Skogen Lund is Director-General of the Confederation of Norwegian Enterprise. She is a former media and telecom executive and a current board member of Ericsson. Since 2015, she is a member of the Global Commission on the Economy and Climate, also known as the Calderón Commission. Kristin Skogen Lund holds an MBA from INSEAD and a Bachelor's degree in International Studies and Business Administration from the University of Oregon.

Kristin Skogen Lund

Jonas Gahr Støre

Jonas Gahr Støre is the leader of the Norwegian Labour Party. He served as Minister of Foreign Affairs 2005–2012 and as Minister of Health and Care Services 2012–2013. Mr. Støre has held various positions at the Prime Minister's Office from 1989 to 1997, including as Special Advisor to Prime Minister Gro Harlem Brundtland, for whom he also served as Chief of Staff (1998–2000) during her time as Director-General of the WHO. Among other positions, Mr. Støre served as Secretary General of the Norwegian Red Cross. He has a degree in Political Science from Institut d'Études Politiques de Paris.

Paola Ivana Suhonen

Paola Ivana Suhonen is the multi-talented designer behind the independent Fashion/Art brand Ivana Helsinki from Finland; leading the rapidly growing brand of exciting new design talent from the Finnish capital that has been named as 'World Design Capital' for 2012. Highlighted by uniquely feminine, Finnish hand knits and original print designs – the Ivana Helsinki women's label is now regularly seen within the pages of all the international fashion magazines, as well as gaining celebrity fans including Helena Christensen, Juliette Lewis, Peaches Geldof, Beth Ditto and Maja Ivarsson. Suhonen's signature style melds Slavic rough melancholy and pure Scandinavian moods with stories from her own experiences in life. She is also the newly appointed Creative Director for the U.S.-based magazine, Love Contemporary. Having recently moved from New York, Paola now lives and works in Los Angeles where she also studies cinematography at the famous AFI.

Ulf Sverdrup

Ulf Sverdrup is the Director of the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs (NUPI). He holds a doctoral degree in Political Science from the University of Oslo. Before taking up the position at NUPI, he was a professor at the Norwegian Business School BI, and a research professor at ARENA, Centre for European Studies, at the University of Oslo. He earned his Master's degree at the University of Bergen. Sverdrup has published extensively on various topics in international politics, with a particular emphasis on European politics, European integration and Norwegian foreign policy. He has been a Jean Monnet fellow at the European University Institute, a Visiting scholar at the Mannheimer Zentrum für Europäische Sozialforschung, and he was a senior advisor in the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He is a regular contributor to Dagens Næringsliv.

Henrik Syse (b. 1966) holds a Master's degree in Political Theory from Boston College and a Doctorate in Philosophy from the University of Oslo. He is a senior researcher at PRIO (Peace Research Institute Oslo) and a Professor of Peace and Conflict Studies at Björknes University College. Henrik is a much-used lecturer in Norway and internationally, and he has published widely within the fields of ethics, political philosophy, business, and religion. His main area of academic concentration has been the ethics of armed conflict. He is currently a member of the Norwegian Nobel Committee.

Henrik Syse

Petter Stordalen is a Norwegian investor, hotel magnate and property developer. Stordalen has sole proprietorship of Nordic Choice Hotels, one of the largest hotel companies in the Nordic region. Nordic Choice Hotels consists of 3 chains, 184 hotels and employs 13,000 people. He is also Co-founder and board member of Stordalen Foundation, owner of Home Invest, Chairman of the Board of Home Capital, Home Properties and Nordic Choice Hotels.

Petter Stordalen

Steen Thomsen is Professor of Corporate Governance at Copenhagen Business School (CBS) and Chairman of the Center for Corporate Governance. His academic publications include 35 international journal articles and several books on the subject including the McGraw-Hill textbook Corporate Governance: Mechanisms and Systems (with Martin Conyon). His research is currently focused on industrial foundations – foundations that own business firms.

Steen Thomsen

Lars Trägårdh

Lars Trägårdh received his PhD in history from UC Berkeley and is currently a Professor of History and Civil Society Studies at Ersta Sköndal University College in Stockholm, Sweden. He has written extensively on Sweden and the Nordic Model, including the acclaimed book, Är svensken människa? Gemenskap och oberoende i det moderna Sverige, written with Henrik Berggren (Norstedts 2006, revised and enlarged 2015). Between 2011 and 2013 he served as a member of the Swedish Prime Minister's Commission on the Future of Sweden. Currently he is writing a book on children's rights in Sweden, the United States and France.