

The Center for Transatlantic Relations (CTR)
at the Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies
Johns Hopkins University
EU Center of Excellence Washington D.C.

Invites you to

Nonviolent Struggle: Lessons from Serbia, Applied in North Africa

A presentation and Q and A with

Srdja Popovic

Centre for Non Violent Action and Strategies, Belgrade

Comments by

Vedran Dzhic

Austrian Marshall Plan Foundation Fellow, Center for Transatlantic Relations

Daniel Serwer, Moderator

Senior Fellow, Center for Transatlantic Relations

Srdja Popovic, one of the founders of Otpor--the youth movement that helped to force Slobodan Milosevic to step down--is also one of the founders of CANVAS, the Belgrade-based Centre for NonViolent Action and Strategies, a network of trainers and consultants who support nonviolent democratic movements through transfer of knowledge on strategies and tactics. Srdja will talk about his experience in Serbia as well as CANVAS' efforts in other parts of the world, including North Africa.

When: Friday, April 1, 2011

Time: 12:30-2:00 pm

Where: Rome 806, Johns Hopkins/SAIS, 1619 Massachusetts Ave N.W. Washington D.C.

RSVP: please RSVP to transatlanticsvp@jhu.edu with "April 1 Popovic" in the subject line.