Invites you to a discussion on

“What Should Ireland and Europe Do Now?
Prospects for the Euro and the European Union”

with

John Bruton

former Prime Minister of Ireland Distinguished Fellow, Center for Transatlantic Relations

Dr. Klaus Larres, Moderator
Senior Fellow
Center for Transatlantic Relations

Ireland and Greece continue to wrestle with financial challenges, despite rescue packages by their European partners. Portugal is teetering. A new Irish government has been elected. Can the euro survive? What does ongoing financial turbulence mean for Europe's economy and the future of the European Union? Join us for a discussion with one of the most eminent practitioners and analysts of these issues. A light lunch will be available.

When: Monday, April 11, 2011
Time: 12:30 PM – 2:00 PM
Where: Room 500, 1717 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington DC

*RSVP by email to transatlanticsvp@jhu.edu with “April 11 Bruton” in the subject line.
